Conversations to have with Animal Companions—

Veterinary Dermatologists are the specialists to help with animal ear disease—the ear is in fact lined with skin!

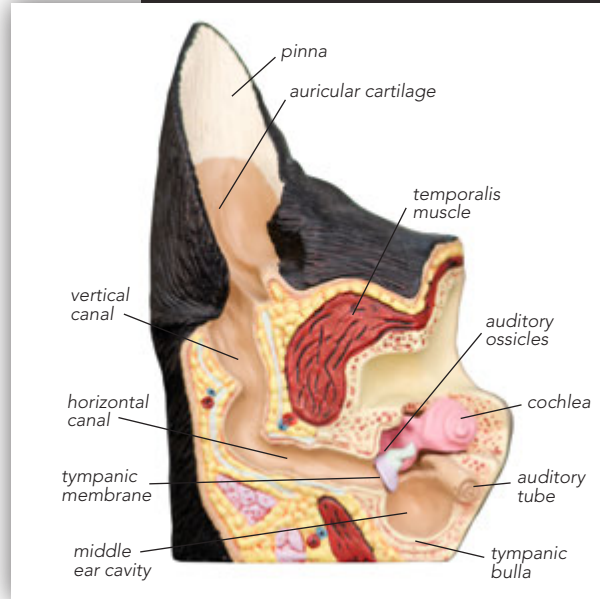

As many as 20% of dogs have some form of ear disease *

CT performed on dogs and cats exists; it is easy and cost-effective when performed in your office with VetCAT

Continued at-home and in-clinic ear cleaning and flushes may not cure the underlying problem

Determining the root problem can reduce animal pain and improve quality of life

Getting the CT today will help determine the underlying cause of recurrent ear infections
